Learn more about Rina and Andy Collins, the founders of Wise Wonder Enrichment

Rina Collins, Founder and Head of Education

As an elementary teacher, Rina saw the gaps in learning that kids were working through. With today's class sizes and curriculum, it was difficult for many kids to keep up – or give them extra challenges if they were already excelling. When kids aren't given the space to learn to love reading, it feels like a chore.

That's why we opened Book Nook in 2012. As a Reading Specialist with my Masters in Literacy, I developed the Book Nook curriculum that has changed the lives of our students – and made reading fun for everyone.

Andy Collins, Co-Founder and COO

Having in-depth experience in Operations & Business development, Andy came on board to help systemize Rina's ideas and help put all the systems in place for an NYC locality expansion. These systems have been refined to ensure a smooth business operation for any future Wise Wonder studios, no matter where the location!
